Fields Environmental, Inc.

Fields Environmental, Inc. provides consulting services to address real or perceived environmental issues affecting property owners, buyers, sellers and developers, as well as banks, insurance companies and government agencies. We develop strategies to mitigate issues affecting property, whether the solution involves remediation or correcting a misperception about the site's environmental status.

Our approach relies on an innovative, outside-the-box mentality that enables you to reach your goals through the fewest number of steps. The outstanding quality of our services stems from our willingness to thoroughly research all of your options and connect you with the resources you need. We are a small, veteran-owned group of professionals that has earned a reputation for excellence and cost-effectiveness during our 12 years in business.

We also practice what we preach; we routinely invest in environmentally impaired properties that we remediate and redevelop. We understand the process from every angle, which prepares us to better serve you.
